On behalf of your Committee may I wish you all a HAPPY NEW YEAR and say that we hope 2007 will be both a Healthy and Prosperous year for you all.

Also, on behalf of all the Committee I thank you all for your enthusiastic and continued support throughout the past year. During the year we enjoyed a varied programme of events, trips to Beaulieu, Eden Project, The Lost Gardens of Heligan and St Fagans all took place during that period of fine weather. Then there were the trips to the Bristol Hippodrome where we saw shows like "My Fair Lady", "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" "Anything Goes" and, just before Christmas, the pantomime "Peter Pan". Our Social Group did us proud last year and the programme for 2007 is being put together, look under Social Events on page 20 for a few ideas.

At this point, I must, on your behalf offer to our team of Vi, Roy, Beryl, Grace and Pat a BIG THANK YOU for their hard work last year it was greatly appreciated by us all.

The organising of trips (theatre and days out) involves our team in a lot of work, so in order to make life a little easier they are introducing a New Booking Arrangement. We would ask you to please read the sample documents printed later in the magazine and, when making your booking for a trip, use the Booking Slip included, or get a copy from Roy when you wish make a reservation.

I cannot leave this subject without referring to our trip to Wells Cathedral for the Christmas Carol Service, 51 members and their friends sang their little hearts out and then returned to the coach for the short ride to the "Camelot Inn" at Polsham; here we all enjoyed a lovely lunch in very convivial surroundings. The Social Group had organised a raffle and everyone was given a 'free' ticket; roughly half the members went home with a prize. Evidence of the jollifications can be seen in the 'centre fold' pictures.

Finally we have welcomed a new group and trust it will be successful, it is the Gardening Group to be run by Carole Loveridge, there may possibly be a job for them this summer—see below.

Some of you may be aware that in 2006 the B.B.C. with Bill Oddy set up the "Breathing Spaces" Project. The intention is that the public, (hopefully some of the younger generation), will be encouraged to get involved and provide areas where the public can take a few moments relaxation away from the pressures of life. The Highbridge War Memorial Trust has applied for a grant and, if successful, will provide an area alongside Southwell House. Our Gardening Group, along with others, has been invited to help look after and manage the area.

We will let you know if they are successful in getting the grant.

Coffee Mornings --New arrangements for 2007

The volunteers that serve us with our drinks etc on Coffee Mornings have suggested, (on a number of occasions), that the price for a mug of coffee/tea should be 50p and not 40p as it is for a cup. The Committee have taken this suggestion on board and, having discussed it fully, feel that because we are a democratic organisation we should take note of these comments and have acted accordingly.

a) Drinks will be available only between 10.00 and 11.30 am. This will enable the 'volunteers' to collect the cups/mugs and wash up before closing time at 12.00 am.

b) As from the 3rd January 2007 cups of tea/coffee will cost 40p
mugs of tea/coffee will cost 50p

Incidentally, we were pleased to see you all on Wednesday 20th December, was it the free mince pies that tempted you? Thanks!

In last months magazine it was confirmed that we did make a small profit at the Bazaar held in October and, as you know, we like to donate this to a local club; one that we feel needs a little financial help. You may have noted in the local press that the Monarch Acrobatic Gymnastics Club has had a bit of agro concerning their use of the Sports Centre, (rent increases) and it was agreed that the youngsters needed some recognition and a bit of encouragement following their recent successes in Europe. A cheque for £180.00 was therefore forwarded to their Club.

Oooooooooooooooooo

Re the Annual Lunch—Details are on Pages 8 and 9 so please read, mark, learn and get you name down soon if you wish to attend.

There are a few changes for 2007. Firstly the venue, this year we are going to use the Beachcomber Inn at Brean, the reason? It can cater for more people and because we have grown in numbers since last year we must ensure ALL members have the opportunity to attend.

Secondly. Transport? We have thought of that too. A coach will be laid on to take you from the Coffee Morning (a crafty move that) and will transport you back to Highbridge, dropping you off on the return journey at points to be agreed. Avoiding drinking and driving!

Please give your membership number when booking because there will be a free raffle using membership numbers to obtain the winners.

Finally! Enjoy!

Keep Fit and Board Games

On the 21st November the two groups had their Seventh Birthday and to celebrate the occasion decided to go out for a meal. Betty Worthy (Board Games) had suggested the Hobbs Boat Inn at Lympham and 18 members from the groups arrived soon after 5pm for their Evening Meal. Everyone was pleased with their meal, chosen from a comprehensive menu, the service was faultless and we all thoroughly enjoyed ourselves. We vowed to return to the inn again at some future date fully recommending the pleasant and friendly atmosphere.

Art Groups

The Thursday Art Group had provided a selection of paintings for display at the Bazaar held in November and two members of the class each sold a copy of their work. Very gratifying to those concerned; we hope this is an incentive to others to produce their own 'masterpieces'. Member June Adamson recently painted a Nativity scene and it was suggested she could use it for her own personal Christmas cards; she promptly joined the card makers and was shown how to produce her own selection in time for Christmas posting.

Luncheon Club

On Thursday the 23rd November 13 intrepid U3A members trekked into the wilds of Westonzoyland for lunch at the Sedgemoor Inn. It was our first venture to this hostelry, on the recommendation of Fay and Ken who had discovered it some weeks before. The menu was really quite extensive with lots of home made pies and everything cooked fresh to order, and all at the princely sum to Pensioners of £3.50.

Too good to be true? Not a bit of it. The plates were laden, with some boasting three different vegetables plus potatoes, (too much for some of us I might add). It was excellent, the welcome was warm and nothing was too much trouble. Thoroughly recommended at twice the price!

Art Group (Contd)

Members of our Art Groups will remember Warwick Williams, who died suddenly some months ago. Warwick loved painting and was a very good artist and could turn out a watercolour in just a few hours. He also loved to chat to all whom he met whilst doing his part-time job at ASDA Bridgwater. Following his death ASDA asked if they could have two of his paintings, these have been mounted and hung in the staff canteen at the store. On Friday 24th November the staff attended a small formal unveiling of them when the Manager gave a short eulogy on Warwick's time with the company and the Company Chaplin then performed the dedication and unveiling. It is not often that a company shows its appreciation of the service given to it by a late employee; we therefore commend ASDA for the manner in which they remembered Warwick.

(Both the paintings, one of boats moored in the River Brue and one of a Suffolk riverside cottage were worked on by Warwick at the Thursday Class)

Family History

If you are interested in researching your Family's History join us at 10.00 am on the first Thursday of each month (next is 4th January) at Southwell House. It is a fascinating hobby and can become addictive also a bit frustrating but very satisfying when you get a result.

Card Making

A short time ago someone had the idea to start meetings for card making; no one was a expert but several ladies came and we got hooked so much that the class, intended only for a few weeks, is still going strong. It is held twice a month now on a Monday morning and a Wednesday afternoon, I have thoroughly enjoyed it making lots of Christmas cards. It is very absorbing (mind over matter therapy) and we are all looking forward to attending in the New Year; with birthday, Easter and other types of card to make we will be busy. With thanks to Fay for her work in the project getting the materials etc.

Doreen Reddish.

Childhood memories

Do you remember when, as a youngster, your mum said?

"You're not sorry, you're just sorry you were caught"

"I'll remind you of that when you have children".

"If you carry on treating this place like a hotel I'll start giving you bills"

"If you don't take your coat off you won't feel the benefit of it when you go out"

"When I was young all I got for Christmas was an apple and an orange-that was it"

"Carrots are good for you, you've never seen a rabbit wearing glasses"

"It's just rain, you won't melt"

SOCIAL GROUP--- Booking Forms

The SOCIAL GROUP regularly organises trips to the theatre and to places of interest (day trips), these outings are always run on a first come first served basis and are subject to those who wish to take part making the necessary bookings with the organising team. We propose, in future, to use a BOOKING FORM (copies are available) to ensure that those concerned are in receipt of all the relevant information, and that we too have the information we need to ensure the AWAY-A-DAY is run to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Once the U3A of Highbridge is committed to paying for the theatre tickets and coach, bookings are not refundable, but if there is a waiting list we will advise the names/telephone numbers so that you may contact the next person/s on the list.

You will receive confirmation of your booking as soon as an economic number of seats have been taken up. Cheques will be cleared only when the trip is certain of running; with theatre tickets we are required to pay for them EIGHT WEEKS before the show--this is a requirement by the theatre.

In order that pickups are dealt with smoothly and as quickly as possible, the number of pickups will be as follows:

PICKUP 'A' -Bank Street Car Park	}	Please try
'B'-Lighthouse Public House	}	to be at
'C'-Burnham Swimming Pool	}	the point
'D'-Berrow Triangle	}	early

INSURANCE: U3A members, and U3A members only, through the payment of their subscriptions, are indemnified, that is insured against Public and Product Liability, when they join an outing.

BELOW IS THE BOOKING FORM WE PROPOSE TO USE FOR THE TRIPS THAT ARE RUN DURING 2007

Please fill in your requirements for the trip in which you interested, IE number of tickets needed, pick-up point and YOUR MEMBERSHIP No (If you are not a member of this U.3.A. please include your address or telephone No)

ANNUAL LUNCH

Wednesday 21st February 2007

At

BEACHCOMBER INN.BREAN

2-Course Carvery Lunch
(Vegetarian option available)

Price per Member: - £8.00

Price per Non-Member: - £10.25

The Club has again subsidised the price of members' meals.

Price per coach passenger: - £4.00

You will have noticed that the venue has changed for 2007.

The reason? We now have over 170 members and, as this is a Club event, all are fully entitled to attend.

The previous venue could cater only for 100, obviously not large enough, so a new venue was sort.

To overcome the problem of getting out to Brean we propose to lay on a coach that will transport members from Bank Street Car Park only (after the Coffee Morning) out to the Beachcomber Inn. On its return to Highbridge the coach will drop off at 4/5 yet to be agreed points.

It is important you now refer to Page 9

In order to make life a little easier for Fay and to avoid problems re lunches and coach reservations would you please fill in the details of your requirements as laid out below: -

Name.....Membership No.....

Lunches: - £8.00 per Member
 £10.25 per Non-Member
Coach: - £4.00 per passenger

Do you/your guest require a vegetarian meal?..... How many?.....

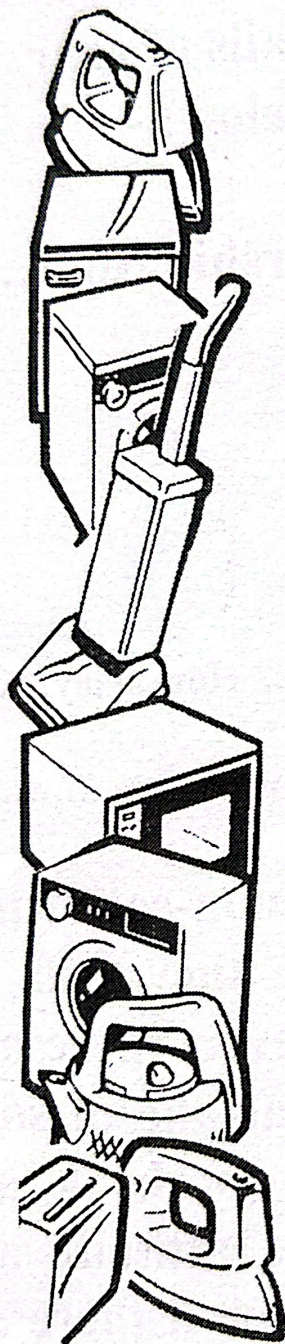

Do you wish to use the coach?..... How many?.....

The coach is being provided so that non-car owners may attend this annual function, they will get priority with seat allocations. However, there may be car owners who will wish to partake of some liquid refreshment and not want to drink and drive. We obviously commend this attitude and they are welcome to also use the coach if there are sufficient spare seats.

This function is usually a great success. ENJOY!

Common Sense-an Obituary

“ Today we mourn the passing of a beloved friend, Common Sense, someone who had been with us for longer than we can remember. No one knows for sure just how old he was, records of his birth were lost long ago buried under bureaucratic red tape. He will be remembered for having cultivated such valuable lessons as knowing when to come in out of the rain, why the early bird gets the worm, that life is not always fair, and maybe it was my own fault after all.

Common Sense lived by simple sound economics, such as don't spend more than you earn and that reliable parenting means the adults are in charge not the children. His health began to deteriorate rapidly when well-intentioned do-gooders set in place overbearing regulations. Reports that a 6-year-old boy was charged with harassment for kissing a classmate; and a teacher fired for reprimanding an unruly student, such happenings worsened his condition.

Common Sense lost ground when parents attacked teachers for doing the job they should have done like disciplining their unruly children. It got even worse when schools were required to get parental consent before putting a plaster on a child's grazed knee, or comforting them when they felt ill; but could not inform the parents when a student became pregnant.

Common Sense lost the will to live when the Ten Commandments became contraband, when churches became businesses and criminals received better treatment than their victims.

Common Sense took a beating when you could not defend yourself or your property from a burglar, but the burglar could sue you if you touched him.

Common Sense finally gave up the will to live after a woman failed to realise that a steaming cup of coffee was hot and was awarded a huge settlement after she spilled a little in her lap.

Common Sense was preceded in death by his parents, Truth and Trust, his wife Discretion, his daughter Responsibility and his son Reason. Ailing stepbrothers I Know My Rights, Someone Else Is To Blame, and I'm A Victim survive him. His grandfather Integrity and grandmother Honesty had both died many years ago

Not many attended his funeral because so few realised he was gone. If you do still remember him pass this on, if not join the Majority, Do Nothing.

With thanks to the Rev. Tony Webb for providing this obituary.

U3A Skittle Party

On the 15th December the members of the Skittle Group had a very enjoyable party at the Royal Artillery Arms public house. There were a few high scores and, as usual, some low ones too. After the game the staff served up an excellent buffet, the tables looked good with the Christmas tree and decorations. After everyone had tucked in and the crackers had been pulled Babs told a few jokes and Doreen read some of her poems about Christmas.

3 of the girls that had not brought a bonnet so paid a forfeit by singing 'Away in a Manger', and then we all joined in. Then the cups were presented, Brenda Hooper again won for the highest total score during the year and Mary Akers won the prize for the most attendances; the free raffle resulted in everyone picking up a prize. About 15 members had entered the best Christmas Bonnet competition with Pete Worthy winning for the men and Beryl Hearn for the ladies, the judges were the bar staff.

The new staff have improved and cleaned up the pub since arriving and in the New Year it closes for a week for further improvements. Sandy Martin proposed a THANK YOU to Ray and Betty for all their hard work in organising the party. Doreen

“Fiat Justitia”--(contd)

In the last issue I set out to explain ‘The Role of Magistrates’ but before going further I should make a very valid point, it is —The Magistrates’ Courts are servants of the people, not their masters; they are a strong line of defence, not only against crime but against oppression. Each Bench is autonomous and independent; guided by the law and by precedent it may be, but it is not dictated to.

Courts are not the tools of Government; they do not take orders in individual cases or classes of cases, not even from the Home Office. But it will have regard to any general guidance that has the force of law.

Fiat Justitia means ‘Let justice be done’ (and be seen to be done) if we cannot manage that, let us at least administer the law sensibly.

A Magistrate administers the law of the land irrespective of class, creed or colour.

How are they appointed?

An application form is obtained from any Magistrate’s Court. Two personal/character referees are needed but need not be an existing J.P.’s.

The application is screened locally for basic suitability—no criminal convictions and no disqualifying factors (i.e. not a Police or Prison Officer or a close relative that is, and many other disqualifications). If accepted for consideration the Lord Chancellor’s department in London screens a candidate.

Each Bench processes its own applications under rules set out by the Lord Chancellor; it interviews formally the suitable candidate,--currently about one in four--; it does not now, however, conduct interviews in the home of the applicant, this is regarded as discriminatory. Each Bench (there are about 200 in England and Wales) covers a geographical area known as a Petty Session Division (PSD)—and aims for a balance between:

Men and Women

Occupations

Political Affiliations

Age

The Magistracy is the only branch of the Public Service where, on application and at interview, a candidate is asked which way they vote.

If a local Bench has ‘too many’ men or women or teachers or accountants, or too many older JP’s a candidate will not be appointed. Until the balance is restored no-one would be appointed no matter how good and suitable they may be, unless it is a choice between perpetuating the balance and going shorthanded.

Also, it is unlikely that candidates under thirty will be appointed, although the minimum age is 18, and persons would not (normally) be appointed if they were over 50. The retirement age of seventy is rigidly enforced. Until recently the lower age limit was 27 and the intention was to ensure candidates had had experience of life and decision-making; the limit now fits in with the voting age. A young woman of 19 was appointed recently. (Contd)

The intention of the upper age limit is to ensure appointees are fit and can see and hear properly. However, some years ago a few blind Magistrates were appointed, there have been some notable ones in history i.e. the eighteenth century novelist Henry Fielding who wrote "Tom Brown's Schooldays". On appointment a candidate is expected to be able to offer twenty years service before the mandatory retirement age is reached.

Her Majesty effects appointment formally on the recommendation of the Lord Chancellor; candidates are not aware that they are to be appointed until it has actually happened. Each new J.P. is appointed to the Commission for the Peace in the area (Usually the county) in which he/she will sit and is further appointed to a particular bench if there is more than one. To be appointed to an area (and remain appointed) a J.P. must live there (or within 15 miles of the border of the Commission's area) or work there.

On appointment a new J.P. takes two formal oaths: - the Oath of Allegiance (to the Queen) and the Justice's Oath, that is: -

"I (name) swear by Almighty God that I will well and truly serve our Sovereign Lady Queen Elizabeth the Second, in the Office of Justice of the Peace and I will do right to all manner of people after the laws and usages of this realm without fear or favour, affection or ill-will".

A J.P. is not entitled to a 'transfer' between Benches but in practice, once he/she has served five years satisfactorily, the Lord Chancellor will place him/her on the supplement list of another area if you move house and he/she will then receive precedence over first-time applicants in that area; but only if a balance is maintained.
