Editorial

There has been an encouraging start to the New Year we have welcomed some new members already and our Annual Lunch was well attended, 97 sat down to an excellent lunch at the Beachcomber Inn. Brean. It was thought that the Inn might be too far from 'home' so we provide a coach for those who did not have transport; or perhaps wished to 'drink and not drive', I think we did right.

The carvery lunch was served very quickly; by serving a table at a time everyone was soon enjoying their meal without hassle. By providing the usual quiz everyone was kept busy whilst waiting their turn and the set of 'pre-decimal' cash questions again gave some of you problems.

It was great to see Barbara Palin with us at this annual function, Barbara has, as many of you know, suffered a lot lately with the big C; when she rang Fay on the morning of the lunch to ask if we would accept her late entry we were overjoyed. It was a pleasure to have you with us Barbara and we were glad you felt well enough to come along, we all wish you the very best of luck for the future.

To add a little jollity to the proceedings Val Stephens had agreed to recite some of her witty poems, a sketch enacted by our Play Reading Group followed this. Vi Chick, Pat Gray and Ethel Titford played their parts well; Pat's teenager get-up gave comedy to the sketch. This group meets every fourth Friday at the home of Tony and Joan Webb, they appear to have fun. (Why not join them!)

The proceedings came to an end with the Raffle, only those attending were eligible, we used the names and membership numbers of those present. The prizes had been carefully wrapped so that no-one knew what their prize was until it was opened,

Thank you Fay for the organising our 2007 Annual Lunch, (I am not allowed to get involved, this is purely Fay's offering to the Club) again it was a success.

2006 was another good year, thank you Social Group for some enjoyable trips to both the theatres and places of interest and thank you too to our Group Co-ordinators for all the work they do throughout the year, their dedication to our member's interests is greatly appreciated.

Editorial (contd)

May I draw your attention to an important date Wednesday 23rd May this is the date of our Annual General Meeting at the Highbridge Community Hall. We interrupt the normal proceedings of drinking coffee/tea and chat at 10.30 a.m., to hold the meeting. From past experience it usually lasts about 30/40 minutes and afterwards you are able to continue with your morning break.

The Agenda for the meeting will be printed in the next issue of this magazine but in the mean time let me advise that the current Committee will be resigning en bloc and will therefore need to be re-elected, The Committee comprises ten full members, meetings are held bi-monthly (unless anything urgent crops up) and are held at Ray and Doreen Reddish's home. We are constantly looking for 'new blood' and new ideas so if you feel you could bring some new life to the proceedings please put your name forward. Please do not wait to see whom others are nominating, but take a more pro-active part in the election yourself and get a friend to nominate/propose you.

Proposal forms are available if you would like your name put forward; it is not an arduous task and your opinions and ideas may be just what we need---give it a go!

We are also keen to have proposals put forward from the 'floor' so if you have something you feel is worth discussing please fill in a 'Motion for Discussion' form as indicated below.

Members may submit "Motions for Discussion" and/or their nominations for a member for the Committee. The procedure being as follows:

- 1) Nominations to be submitted in writing.
- 2) Two signatures required for each nomination.
- 3) Voting will be by a show of hands.
- 4)

Motions to be received by the Secretary by Wednesday 9th May 2007 in order that they may be published and posted on the Club Notice Board on Wednesday 9th May 2007.

Only Members can cast a vote at the A.G.M. so make sure you are a member before attending.

Memberships

When renewing your membership, please utilise the form that is printed in this magazine. It is printed again in this issue to--

- a) Remind you to do it, and
- b) To assist our Membership Secretary (Beryl) when she enters details to the Membership Register. It makes life a lot easier for her especially if your details have changed. Thank you for your co-operation.

Group News

Card Making Group

Next Class dates are: -

Monday 5th March 10.00 am to 12.00am
 Wednesday 21st March 2.00 pm to 4.00 pm
 Monday 2nd April 10.00 am to 12.00 am
 Wednesday 18th April---Fay on holiday
 Monday NO! May---Bank Holiday Monday
 Wednesday 16th May 2.00 pm to 4.00 pm

Art Groups

On March 17th (St Patrick's' Day) the West Huntspill Spring Show is being held at Balliol Hall starting at 2.00 p.m. Members of our Art Classes are entering examples of their works for approval, we expect about 12/15 entries from the club. There are many classes, all are 'Open' and if you have made something, embroidery or wine or think you may have a prize winning photograph why not enter it, you could very well win an award.

Play Reading

What did you think of our Play Reading Group's efforts at the Annual Lunch? Tony Webb is anxious to get new members, this group has been running for about seven years but age and the moving to new homes away from Highbridge has cut down the members drastically. Please give it some thought if you fancy yourself as a thespian.

Spanish Group

This group started with high hopes, about ten members wishing to learn the language, but attendance has dropped recently due to sickness and other commitments; but Sallie Park is pressing on with the syllabus.

Family History

The attendance at this workshop fluctuates somewhat, both in numbers and persons. I find that I learn something new at each workshop, Roger is a mine of information on genealogical matters, my only regret is that I never seem to find the time to sit and concentrate on the subject. I am trying to trace about four different branches of the family tree and find that I get stuck in one particular area for weeks. But I am determined to get there eventually. We meet on the first Thursday of each month at Southwell House 10.00 'til 11.00 a.m.

Childhood memories- What mothers said:

Strollers

The weather has not been too kind lately on the Fridays on which we take our fortnightly strolls around the local countryside. Ray Reddish knows most of the footpaths that take in the walks across the fields but all the recent rain has made such strolls out of the question. We have been limited to routes that make use of the country lanes, on one of the last trips we circumnavigated Cossington, this proved to a very enjoyable morning, especially when we all stopped off at the Crown Inn in East Huntspill on the way back. The roaring fire tempted us to stay on after our coffees and have some very nice sandwiches, a very civilised way to finish off the morning.

The next stroll was to be at the West Hay nature reserve and because the days previous had been cold, dry and frosty we looked forward to a good morning. Unfortunately, the weather turned the night before and it rained incessantly, so the stroll was postponed for two weeks, but it rained again and to walk around West Hay in the wet and/or on muddy ground does not make for a pleasurable walk. So! We will try again when it is a little drier. On that Friday (23rd Feb) both Ray and Fay were indisposed so Janet Holderness lead the walk and the ladies went to Uphill and enjoyed a dry, sunny stroll, timed just right because on their return to Highbridge it rained again. Thank you Jan.

Keep Fit and Board Games

These groups, held consecutively on a Tuesday afternoon, are still two of the mainstays of the Club, drawing about 12/15 regulars. How much exercising they do we do or how many games they play is not know but they obviously have a good and enjoy each others company.

Skittles

Another favourite; Ray Reddish and Betty Worthy have a regular following for this activity, again with about 15/20 turning up on the ~~second~~ and ~~fourth~~ Fridays.

U3A Information from the Third Age Trust

Information from 'Head Office' recently includes:

Details of the Summer Schools at Chester and Cirencester these were displayed when first announced; there are still a few vacancies, at Chester (July 9th to 12th), residential and day places are available on all courses except local history.

At Cirencester (August 20th to 23rd) there are a few day places available on art history, botany, music and crime and society.

The U3A News, of which we receive 4 copies a year, can be received on Direct Mail if you wish; the price is £1.30 per year. If you are interested let me know and I will arrange to get your name on the mailing list. I must know by 28th March.

More memories:

"If you think you're going out looking like that, you can think again"

SOCIAL GROUP--- Booking Forms

The SOCIAL GROUP regularly organises trips to the theatre and to places of interest (day trips), these outings are always run on a first come first served basis and are subject to those who wish to take part making the necessary bookings with the organising team. We propose, in future, to use a BOOKING FORM (copies are available) to ensure that those concerned are in receipt of all the relevant information, and that we too have the information we need to ensure the AWAY-A-DAY is run to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Once the U3A of Highbridge is committed to paying for the theatre tickets and coach, bookings are not refundable, but if there is a waiting list we will advise the names/telephone numbers so that you may contact the next person/s on the list.

You will receive confirmation of your booking as soon as an economic number of seats have been taken up. Cheques will be cleared only when the trip is certain of running; with theatre tickets we are required to pay for them EIGHT WEEKS before the show--this is a requirement by the theatre.

In order that pickups are dealt with smoothly and as quickly as possible, the number of pickups will be as follows:

|---------------------------------|---|------------|
| PICKUP 'A'-Bank Street Car Park | } | Please try |
| 'B'-Lighthouse Public House     | } | to be at   |
| 'C'-Burnham Swimming Pool       | } | the point  |
| 'D'-Berrow Triangle             | } | early      |

INSURANCE: U3A members, and U3A members only, through the payment of their subscriptions, are indemnified, that is insured against Public and Product Liability, when they join an outing.

BELOW IS THE BOOKING FORM WE PROPOSE TO USE FOR THE TRIPS THAT ARE RUN DURING 2007

Please fill in your requirements for the trip in which you interested, IE number of tickets needed, pick-up point and YOUR MEMBERSHIP No (If you are not a member of this U.3.A. please include your address or telephone No)

A POST DATED Cheque for the full value of the trip is required; this will not be cashed until the trip is confirmed.

Children's Hospice

Members have always shown an interest in the Children's Hospice-South West and most of you will remember our late colleague Jack Foster who devoted a lot of his time to collecting money for the Hospice near Barnstaple. I am sure Jack would have been keen to go on the trip to the new Hospice that was recently open for 'inspection' at Wraxall. Doreen Reddish, with a small group of members has visited the new hospice and has written a report for us.

"Seven members of the U3A of Highbridge went to Wraxall recently to view the new Children's Hospice. On arrival we were required to put on blue overshoes and were then taken on a tour starting with the old part of the premises, (the site was a working farm before being purchased by the hospice). It was wonderfully laid out even using cast iron roof supports from the original buildings.

Seven children can be there at one time, with one spare room for emergencies and rooms for parents and siblings. Everything is done to make their short lives comfortable and happy with plenty for their brothers and sisters to do. The outside is all wheelchairs friendly and is going to be lovely when all the planting is finished.

The first child will be admitted at the end of April. It was felt that the builders have done an excellent job. The last room we visited was the cool room (the chapel is elsewhere) where everyone went very quiet and had some sad thoughts. After tea and cakes we all left feeling more determined to help the hospice.

Upon arriving in the car park we spoke to some workers and one said 'It's a lovely building and grounds but a place that everyone would like to be always empty.' "

(PS. A number of other members have since made a visit and all were very impressed.)

Our Spanish Holiday

Four not so merry widows full of the winter blues decided that they really could do with a holiday---Frengirola was duly chosen. So on 5th November off we set for Spain—Brenda, Val, Pam and Barb. Looking for ‘sun, sand, sea and “whatever”’.

We arrive in time for the late dinner setting after which we retire to Brenda’s room for a few drinks before bed. A while and a few drinks later we watched a rather drunken fellow lurch from side to side down the road sneezing as he goes and with every sneeze we shout down “Bless you”. Now we are five floors up and can’t be seen, so in the end this poor man gets quite confused and stands in the middle of the road shouting, “Do you want sex”? —That was the nearest we got to “whatever”.

Monday and Tuesday we think we are back in England, cold and torrential rain, good excuse to tour the shopping malls. Wednesday still raining but we get the train to Malaga anyway looking for a particular Cathedral, the area we are looking for is very seedy but we are cold, very wet and fed-up. We dash into the next café we come to, what a dump! We stand undecided but the man behind the counter raises his hand and shouts “Sit” we sit and are duly served with delicious coffee, the two men behind the counter start to do a crazy dance with a broom. Val starts waving her arms about—is there something in the coffee? No—it’s a rat; we beat a hasty retreat out of the door and never did find the Cathedral Val wanted to see.

Most of our evenings were spent dancing the night away with Val dancing all the way to Amarillo making up her moves as she went along with us trying to follow on. By the end of the week the Spanish ladies were dancing along with us. Some evenings the entertainment was poor so we went back to Val’s room with some Sangria and Vodka. One evening Val tried to teach us to play cards but the more the Vodka flowed the more confused the game became, Brenda gets muddled and puzzled, stares at Val and shouts “You old fudder”---Barb is squiffy and thinks the game is something about twisting and says “It is a good job we’re not playing strip poker we would have been naked in 10 minutes---not a pretty sight”

Another evening in Val’s room with Sangria and Vodka Brenda tries to demonstrate how to remove her underwear without taking off the outerwear. Val decides to join in, Barb is falling about laughing and even the couple in the next bedroom are having hysterics listening to us—literally a case of getting your knickers in a twist.

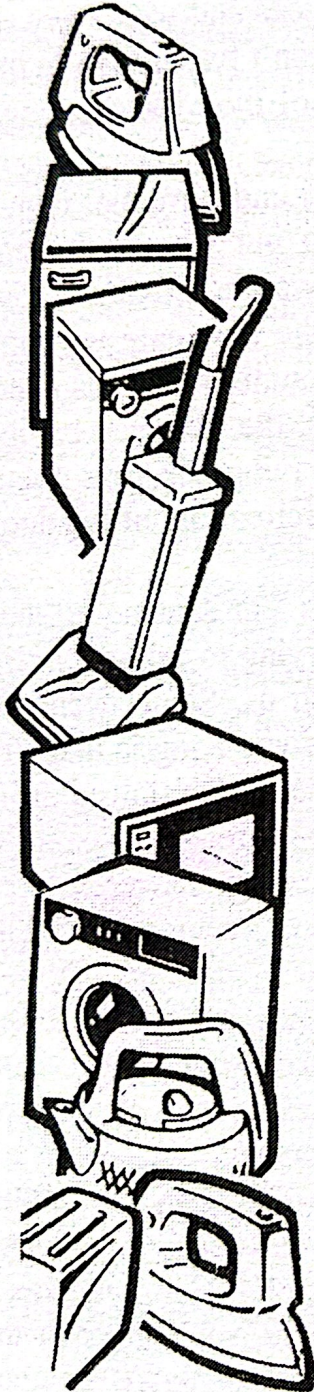

We met a wide mix of people, like the lady who piled her plate high with all on offer at every meal, would then place her teeth on the table and proceed to eat. Another lady was in floods of tears because she had lost the key to her safety box but was not concerned about her money or jewellery but the false teeth she had locked in there because she thought the cleaner would steal them. There was a lovely Asian couple from Bradford-Maisie and her friend from Bideford, Donna from Sussex holidaying on her own who shared Barb’s love of gems; then there was Tom and Ron two elderly English gentlemen---Pam announced her engagement to Tom then said she was “with child” but “divorced” Tom on Friday because he was looking down the neck of a hussy in a red dress so Pam’s affections were transferred to Ron, fast lady our Pam.

The fellows took it all this in the lighthearted way it was meant and said the holiday had been dull until we arrived.

Before we left we had a last visit to the seafront bar for coffee and brandy then decided to have some chips, Pam had a problem with the tomato sauce bottle, Val took it off her and gave it a whack, both Val and Pam ended up wearing tomato sauce; it was everywhere, even in our brandy glasses, bit like a Laurel and Hardy film, and, as usual we laughed ourselves silly.

There were lots of other funny and silly things that happened on our holiday and for us it was all about fun and laughter. We like to think we also made a lot of people laugh along with us.

This year we are off to Turkey—let's hope they will let us in!

Thank you Barbara

“Fiat Justitia”--(contd)

To quote the late Magnus Magnusson “ I’ve started so I’ll finish”

What do JP’s Do?

As Magistrates they administer the criminal and civil law, both in court and outside it; and they discharge some administrative and civic functions. Including: -

(a) Court Work

i) Criminal Courts.

Magistrates hear and dispose of cases involving criminal offences. Offenders over eighteen appear at Adult Courts; those under seventeen or less appear at Youth Courts. (The general age of criminal responsibility is ten.)

All criminal cases (with one tiny exception) start in a Magistrates Court, 95% of all cases are completed there too. The tiny exception comprises cases brought before Parliament sitting in Court, there has not been one since 1946.

Criminal cases fall into two categories---those where the Crown brings the case—most “normal” criminal cases—and those where the case is prosecuted by some other body, such as the Local Authority (breaches of planning regulations) or a regulatory body, such as the Licensing Authority or the DVLA. Just now and again a case is brought by an individual, usually one of assault and/or of molestation. Occasionally a serious matter features in a private prosecution—Stephen Lawrence murder trial is an instance.

Another area associated with the Criminal law involves animals, notably dangerous dogs, where the “penalty” may be inflicted on the dog rather than the owner.

In recent years some area—Sedgemoor is one—the holding of special courts for domestic violence has been tried, it sits once a week in Bridgwater.

Between sixty and seventy percent of “criminal” cases are actually motoring matters, although the proportion does vary and is now changing because ‘fixed penalties’ are now offered e.g. those caught speeding.

In association with criminal cases Magistrates hear and determine applications for bail from those awaiting trial and from those convicted but awaiting sentence. A single Magistrate may grant or withhold bail, although in law it is a presumed right in all but the most serious cases (murder, attempted murder, treason) other than where there are reasons not to, to grant it.

(ii) Non-Criminal Courts.

As Magistrates JP’s hear and dispose of cases that do not involve the criminal law, notably cases involving the welfare of children: these take place in a Family Proceedings Court.

Family cases involve either Public law cases, where the state (i.e. the County Court Social Services) intervenes to promulgate a child’s welfare or Private law cases where the argument is between (usually) the parents.

Typically the cases involve deciding who shall have parental responsibility for the child, where the child should live and who may visit and associate with the child.

The FPC also deals with the simpler/agreed kinds of adoption cases. More complicated or contested cases are dealt with in the County Court.

Fiat Justitia-continued*(iii) Licensing Jurisdiction

This comprises hearing appeals from the decisions of the local authority involving the licensing and control of pubs, clubs and certain other premises.

(iv) Fines, etc, Enforcements

Magistrates deal with cases of arrears of fines, compensation and costs, usually at a specially held court sitting.

b) Non-Court Work.*(i) Warrants and Summonses

JP's as JP's have the power to grant warrants both for searches of named premises and for the arrest of suspects or absconders, the latter being valid for anyone within England or Wales; and this can be done in or out of Court and by a single J.P. They may also sign summonses to attend court in respect of criminal proceedings.

(ii) Certification of Documents

A very few documents (usually involving a statutory declaration) actively require the signature of a J.P., but mostly a J.P. is merely one among the classes of persons whom the law regards as suitable for signing or witnessing official documents like passport or shotgun applications.

(iii) Licensing

In addition to the work done in Court JP's may actually visit and inspect licensed premises, but this increasingly rare.
