Important note!!

Not wishing to repeat the 'senior moment' we had last year please let me now warn you that there will NOT be a Coffee Morning on Wednesday 14th September. The Blood Transfusion Service will be using the hall in order to collect blood from their volunteer donors.

Sorry about this but they have been doing this for many years. Last year when it happened yours truly forgot to warn everyone and, for a few minutes, we had members suffering withdrawal symptoms, they thought they would not get a drink that morning. We did however; manage to obtain Southwell House for our Coffee Morning because the booking for it had been cancelled---phew that was lucky?

Please make a note in your diaries now.

Group News

Somerset Villages This new group got off to a great start on Friday 29th July; Bernard Martin, (Group Leader) had decided that North Curry would be an ideal place to visit on this their first venture. Carole Loveridge's write-up on Page 6 confirms that the members enjoyed their day and they all look forward to the next outing.

I have been informed the next destination for the "Somerset Villages" Group is Somerton and it will be on Friday 23rd September, a week earlier than anticipated because Bernard needs to attend a family wedding the following weekend.

Play Reading Group Regrettably Tony Webb has decided that it is no longer practicable to continue holding this activity due to the depletion in members participating. The West Huntspill Players recently presented to us copies of plays they no longer need and although this boosted Tony's library of plays, he regrets he does not have enough members to play the parts.

Very regrettable but thank you Tony and Joan very much for your dedication and patience over the years for trying to keep the Group going.

Groups News

Calligraphy Group, the class is making steady progress, it takes a little time to get used to the discipline of holding the calligraphy pen at a specific angle, not easy when one is so used, these days, to using ballpoint pens. Some members of the class have picked up the knack rather quickly and are getting to be good at this new discipline. Some measure of concentration is needed to not only keep the pen at the correct angle, but also to keep the letters in line and on the line.

We are pleased to say that the interest has been revitalised and we find that it is necessary to return to Southwell House for our classes, 39 Saxondale Avenue was very convenient to some of us but it became rather overcrowded with two more joining the class. So, as from Monday 12th September we will be back at Southwell House from 10.00 am until 12.00 am.

Art Groups August is the month the local Horticultural Shows are held, these were held at East Huntspill on August 6th and West Huntspill on August 20th. Members from the Thursday Class submitted entries to both shows, although this year numbers were slightly down due to a variety of reasons, holidays etc.

We achieved a small modicum of success with Ann Senior picking up a 2nd prize for her painting at East Huntspill, she again picked up at 2nd prize at West Huntspill with a watercolour. Yours truly picked up a 1st Prize for a watercolour of Hull docks, because of the low number of entries I took it off the bedroom wall to help boost the numbers.

Group Open Day This is being organised by Pearl Price and she is hoping members will be willing to give her a little help. It is scheduled for Tuesday 25th October and it will enable our Groups to present to the wider world examples of what they do at their meetings. Similar 'Open Days' in the past have proved to be successful.

It is being held in the Community Hall, on a Tuesday; why a Tuesday? Because that is the only day the hall is available and then only until 3.30 pm. Its not easy planning these events is it?

Pearl has had a word with most of the Group Leaders and they have agreed to provide examples of their crafts, obviously help will be needed on the BIG day and Pearl will be de-e-e-lighted to hear from anyone willing to lend a hand, bake a cake, etc. So please ring her on 793954 for more information or catch her at a Coffee Morning.

There will be some items for sale.

Group News

Does anyone out there know how to play BRIDGE?

There are few members, who have told us they would like to learn how to play Bridge; we have asked around and found that we do have a one member who can play but she said she is not keen to teach others. Is there someone who could take on this task in order that we can form a new group?

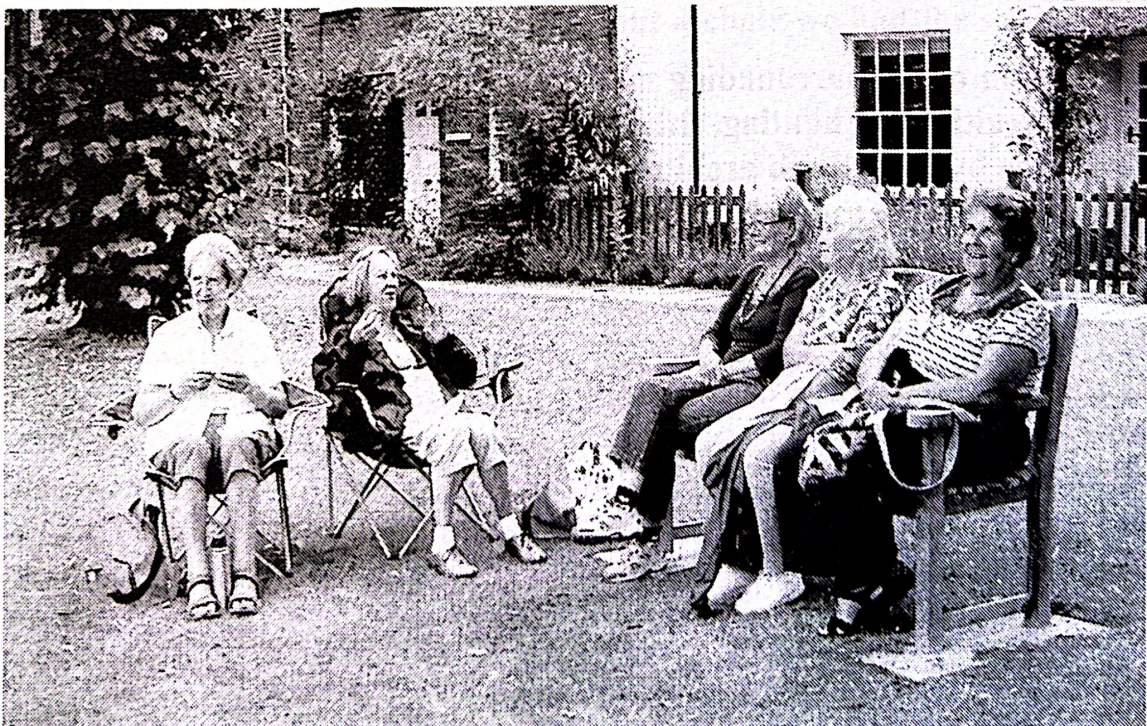

If you know of anyone is would be prepared to teach Bridge please let Fay or Ken Burston know we can then arrange for a venue to be made available.

Luncheon Club We have not had a lunch out at a local pub for a considerable time and it is now proposed we correct this omission.

Fay Burston has booked the Berrow Inn for a Club lunch on Monday 17th October, time 12.00 am for 12.30 pm.

It will be a " 2--Meals for £7.00 menu" details will be on the Notice Board soon, please add your name to the list and indicate what you would like for lunch so that Fay can pre-order and save time.

If this lunch is well supported we may have another arranged for later in the year.

Lunch on the village green---North Curry

On Friday 29th July we held our first "Somerset Villages" trip and Bernard had chosen North Curry that is 5 miles from Taunton. Although the weather didn't appear great as we set off from Highbridge the drizzle eventually disappeared allowing us to do our exploring in the dry. We parked up in the centre, of what can only be described as a quintessential English Village.

We made our way to the village church—St Peter & St Paul, it has the nickname of 'The Cathedral of the Moors', and it dates back to the 12th century. The tower is octagonal and looks as though it's missing its spire. The church was open so we were able to spend time enjoying the interior as well as the splendid views across the moors due to its slight elevated position.

There was a map of the graves that enabled people to trace their ancestors. This proved to be interesting because one of our members had family links with North Curry and was able to give us some local history first hand.

The village was settled in Saxon times and from the history details off the internet it seems Richard I of England deeded the village with other possessions to the Bishop of Wells in exchange for cash to pay off his ransom to the Austrian Emperor Henry VI; tantamount to his credit card of the day.

Reclamation of the surrounding moors meant the village expanded along with its wealth from hunting, fishing and the wool trade. This wealth was in evidence by the superb architecture and its 68 listed buildings. After a walk through and around the village we eventually decamped into the local coffee shop that is run by volunteers.

After refreshments we checked out the archives in the loft above the café, lots of reminiscing here over artefacts from bygone times. The member whose family came from here is to make a return visit as she has information that could be of use to the volunteer group and she hopes to learn more about her family history. All had a really enjoyable day; this promises to be a really interesting activity, I would urge members to go on one of these events.

American Picnic-(All's well that ends well)

Angela Cook

Little did we know when Betty (Lambert) picked me up on Friday 15th for our American Picnic at Lower Maunsel Lock, North Newton, that the day would end so eventfully.

When we arrived at the lock the weather was sunny with a threat of rain (well, it was St Swithen's Day) and we set up our chairs for the picnic. Betty and Margaret decided to stay on the bank whilst Mary, Pam, Carol and myself boarded the first boat trip with other U3A members. It was a very relaxing hour, nattering with friends (no rain as yet). After, we helped set up the picnic and had another natter between mouthfuls of lovely food and drink. Spits and spots of rain started falling just as the second boat was leaving so we decided to head for home before it got really heavy (not knowing what was to come).

On the journey home we crossed the motorway and noticed that the traffic was at a bit of a standstill, so, staying on the A38 we joined the queue into North Petherton. At this point we were unaware of any accidents or if the traffic hold-up was just due to sheer volume. Eventually we heard on the radio that there had been a six-car pile up on the M5, much to our dismay we then crawled for an hour. We stop at Morrisons for a cup of tea, had a little rest and did some shopping (as one does) thinking the roads may get a bit clearer with a little time. Sadly we rejoined the still slow moving traffic and crawled all the way to Highbridge, arriving safely at around 5pm.

A big "thank you" to Betty!!

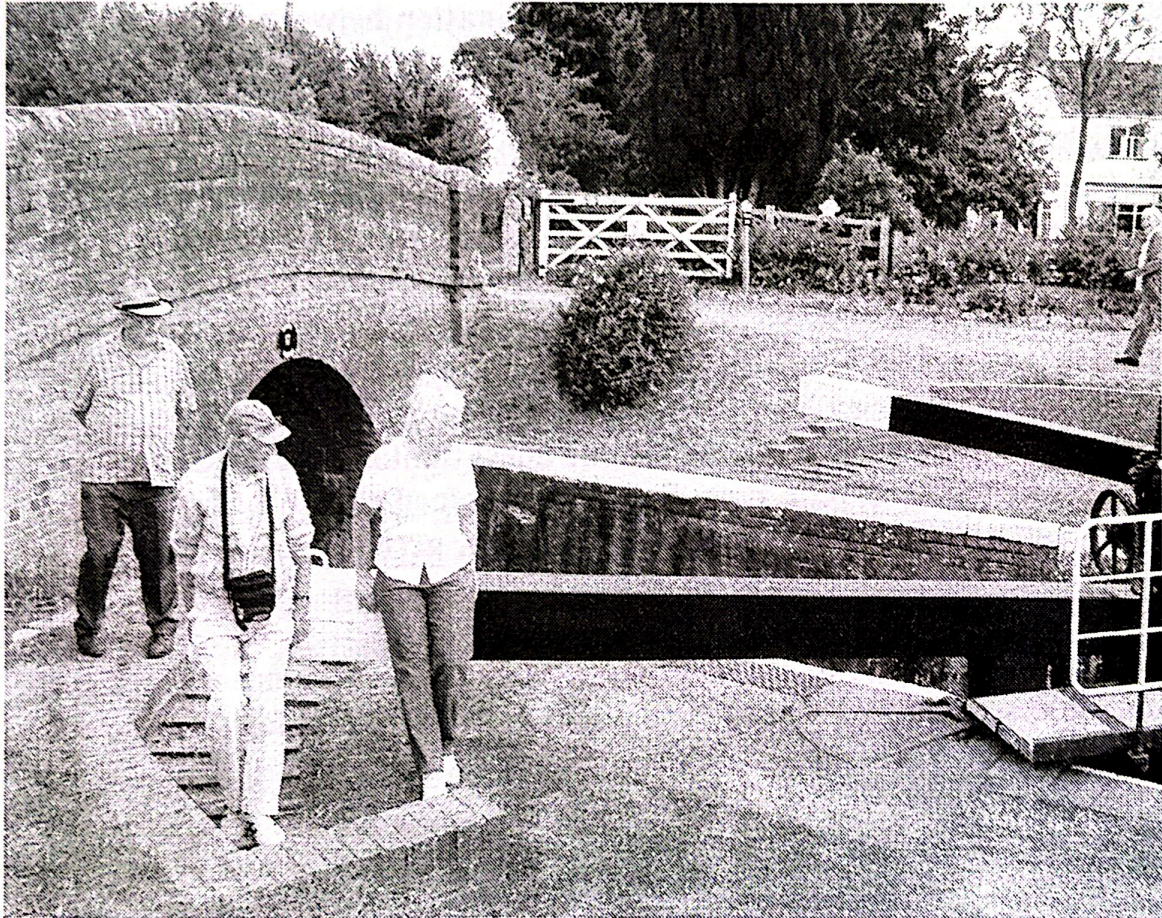

After our adventures of the day, my husband informed me when I got home that we had had a phone call about a chair we had for sale and we happily sold it at 7.30 pm.

The first group set off watched by Betty Andrews and Pearl Price.

Lower Maunsel Lock has recently undergone a complete makeover, the lock was cleaned out and both pairs of gates were replaced. This work was completed a few days before our visit making it possible for us to take the boat trips on the Maunsel Lady.

At the start the weather was very kind to us being sunny and warm, so much so that we needed to borrow a parasol and table from the café. The staff there also loaned to us a large table, which when placed alongside ours, gave us a much larger surface on which to spread the picnic. What a spread it was? The American picnics always serve up a wide variety of food no one ever goes short.

Barbara Croker and Billy Conibeer put their backs into opening the lock gates allowing the first group of members to depart on their trip.

All members experienced problems when driving back to Highbridge, Angela Cook's description of events covered all of us; what would normally be a 45-minute journey took some crews up to 2 hours 50 minutes. It obviously did not spoil anyone's day we had had another grand day; the weather had been kind to us, the venue was ideal and will be re-visited during the next few weeks.

If members are interested the café at the lock have pamphlets that list a number of walks in the area of the canal and with a source of refreshment readily available it could prove to be an ideal place for a quiet afternoon in the country.

Away Days

The next "Away Day" on Thursday 8th September is to Morwellham Quay.

Cost: -£22.00

The coach will leave Highbridge (Market Street) at 09.00 am

Morrison's (Pier Street) at 09.10 am there will be a comfort/coffee stop en route to Devon and the coach will leave at 04.30 pm for its return journey arriving in Highbridge at about 07.00 pm

The Victorian village is on the west bank of the River Tamar near Tavistock and, if you are that way inclined, can be guaranteed to keep you busy all day moving around the site.

On alighting from the coach it is suggested you make your way to the large water wheel near the centre of the village. There are two trails (Red and Blue) these start from near the Wheel and the Trail Guide provides a comprehensive programme of what you can see and do.

"The Ship Inn" contains a licensed restaurant and serves excellent lunches, if you decide to eat here place an order as soon as possible otherwise you may waste valuable viewing time.

The "George and Charlotte Copper Mine" is probably one of the highlights of the visit, on the train ride into the mine you are given a commentary on the mine and the miners that toiled in it.

Morwellham is at the highest navigable point on the River Tamar being 23 miles from the sea; it served as a port to the Abbey of Tavistock and in Victorian times was one of the greatest copper ports.

The Red Trail takes in the village and port area with the miners' cottages, Assay Office, Smithy and School room, etc; the Blue Trail covers the Victorian Farm, Shire horses and, at the top of the hill, the entrance to the Tavistock Canal that runs for 1.5 miles under Morwell Down to Tavistock.

If you like to dress up why not try on a Victorian period costume, giving you an opportunity to dress in clothes similar to those of our ancestors, you are able to stroll out around the site if you wish.

If you decide to come on this trip be sure you are suitably shod, there could be a lot of walking to do if you wish to see all there is to see. If you think you may feel peckish during the day bring refreshments to avoid going back to the pub or to the shop.

If the weather is kind to us and you wish to see all that there is see at the site then it could prove to be a tiring day, so come prepared.

Floral Art Group

You may remember that when the Mayor Cllr Michael Clarke attended our 10th Anniversary Tea Party back in 2010 he was so impressed with the floral arrangements produced by our Floral Art Group he invited the team to arrange the flowers for the Civic Award Ceremony that was due within a few days.

The floral displays at both St Andrews Church and the Princess Hall were very well received, so much so that the Mayor again invited our Floral Art Group to arrange the flowers for the 2011 Civic Awards Ceremonies.

Jean Williams and her teams, comprising Brenda Hooper and Vour Orchard at St Andrews Church and Kathy Taylor and Fay Burston at the Princess Hall, spent the Saturday prior to the event preparing the displays. Again the resulting arrangements gave a splash of natural colour to the proceedings and the Mayor when thanking everyone for their help in making the event a success also thanked our Group for their work.

At the Princess Hall

The Floral Art Group, under Jean Williams's guidance meets in Southwell House on the fourth Tuesday of each month from 10.30 am until 12.00 am. If you would like to join them and learn about flower arranging then please have a word with Jean. Of course if you are quite happy to plonk a bunch of flowers in a vase and leave it that, so be it; but there is an art to the way it is done so that the resulting display is pleasing to the eye.

LOCAL TRADERS DIRECTORY

Did you remove the Local Traders Directory from your last issue of the magazine and keep it for future reference? If not, why not?

We know from past experience that the list is very useful when an appliance or system has suddenly failed to do what it is supposed to do and you need urgent help to get it put right. The Local Traders Directories are provided for just that purpose, because it is often difficult to locate a reliable tradesman when you need one in a hurry so---details of someone local who might be able to help is now to hand.

One thing we must stress is that all the traders named have been approached by us and have given us, personally, their approval for us to put their names forward. Members who have used them feel that their work is to a good standard and they warrant inclusion in our list so that all members may benefit from their experience.

Also, please bear in mind; the list is a recommendation only not a guarantee. Any work carried out must, by necessity, be to your own personal liking and approval. You are the final judge of both the work and the price quoted. If you do experience any problems please let a Committee member know and their name will be removed from the list.

Unfortunately there was a slight error on the list, the phone number for Plumber Ian Tiso is 795550 NOT 785550.

In the last issue I referred to the problems that exist when a small Club, say U3A of Highbridge, attempt to organise a holiday for its members. The Third Age Trust has now produced guidance on this and I feel the details should be circulated so that the matter is clearly defined.

From the Trust: -

“ As far as U3A holidays are concerned, the only safe way to organise them is through a travel agency/company so that you are fully covered by liability insurance. In addition, all payments should be made on an individual basis, directly to the company and not to the U3A. In this way a contract is clearly established between an individual and the company rather than with the U3A as an entity, which is a much safer way to do it. There is, however, no reason why the organiser should not collect cheques and then either send them in one batch or deliver them. If you do organise a holiday yourselves, you will have no money insurance and in the event of a serious incident on holiday involving a U3A member or members, you would have not insurance in place to protect you, and the organiser(s) could be in serious trouble and deemed personally liable”.

Straight from the ‘horses mouth’ as they say!

A little light relief

A man was dining alone in a posh restaurant and sitting at the next table was a gorgeous redhead. He was really struck by her beauty and been checking her out but lacked the nerve to speak to her.

Suddenly she sneezed and her glass eye came flying out of its socket, the man reacted instantly and caught it out, handing it back.

"Oh my, I am so sorry," said the redhead, as she popped it back into place.

"Would you let me buy your dinner as a thank you"?

They enjoyed a wonderful meal following it up by going to the theatre and having a few drinks. They talked and laughed, sharing a great evening talking about their dreams for the future.

After paying for the meal she asked him if he would like to go back to her place for a nightcap and perhaps stay for breakfast.

The next morning she cooked a gourmet meal with all the trimmings, the experience had been so incredible.

"You know" he said, "You are my perfect woman, are you always this nice to other men"

"No," she said, "You just happened to catch my eye" (Thank you Phyllis Walsh)

Car-Sharing

We have recently introduced new Groups into the Club activities, for instance the "Away Day" Group can now arrange for members to be picked up at Morrison's (Pier Street); in order to get there some of you may require a lift from a fellow member. Also, we have started the "Somerset Villages" Group and, here again, it is possible members who wish to join in this activity will need a lift in order to enjoy this new adventures into our lovely county.

To put your minds at rest with regard to your car insurance should you be asked to give a fellow member a lift do not fret; when 'others' are deemed to be passengers in your car we can advise that: -

"If vehicle occupancy is purely for a 'goodwill' and 'charitable' reason, passengers are considered to be just like family/friends, and the same rules apply to car-sharing."

Also, "Providing profit is not in any way involved and that any contribution by a passenger is deemed to help offset fuel costs a problem does not exist"

Finally, as long as the vehicle is being driven strictly in accordance with the conditions laid down by its owner's insurance policy there are no insurance implications.

“Away Days” 2011

Morwellham Quay,
