Editorial

May I start off by wishing, on behalf of all your Committee, every member a Happy, Healthy and Prosperous New Year?

2012 went by very quickly and, looking back over the last few months, I think most of us are glad it did. The weather throughout the whole year was not what we would normally expect, even in the U.K. We must now hope that 2013 will be a lot better and will provide us with something special this time to make up for 2012 gave us.

To start this New Year I need to apologise to members regarding the last issue of the magazine; unfortunately the printing was not up to its usual standard. Usually the computer warns me when the toner cartridge is close to running dry, this time it did not, which meant that a replacement was not easily to hand. Sorry!

Your first magazine for 2013 will, hopefully, remind you that some of our group activities are re-starting next week after taking a rest over the festive season.

Leading up to the festive season most groups had their customary end-of-year 'party', if photographs were taken and are suitable for publication would you please let me have a copies, we will try to include them in a later issue of the magazine.

Our first 'Big' event of the year 2013 is the Club Holiday at Shanklin on the Isle of Wight. This is a very much looked forward to event and I am sure you will all have a good time; it is going to be an excellent get-together for members. In some respects it might be called an "Away Day" Coffee Morning?

On Wednesday 20th March we are holding our Annual Lunch at The Beachcomber Inn at Brean. This function has always been a jolly social affair and is a good way of starting out on another year with a get-together at Brean and, of course a good meal.

Details may be found on Pages 7 and 8

The "Away Days" have been booked for 2013, it is suggested you make a note of the dates given on Page 9 and put the information in your new 2013 diaries for future reference.

Club News

Social Group---Holiday

We start the year with the Club's holiday at Shanklin on the Isle of Wight. This will be the first holiday organised on our behalf by Dianne Barnard and Brenda Clapp. This new venture into the organisation of Club holidays is very welcome following the demise of our previous Social Group which, regrettably, resigned a short time ago.

We, the Committee, wish them every success with this new venture and trust all the members who are going on the holiday will have a good time. It is understood the Daish Hotel was previously an old coaching inn and is on the outskirts of what is known as Old Shanklin. This is a small part of Shanklin itself and contains some of the oldest dwellings, the majority of them thatched. It is slightly lower than the town of Shanklin and is famed for its small gift shops and tea rooms.

Shanklin Chine with Rylestone Manor and Gardens close by and it is understood red squirrels can be seen in the gardens. Although a very busy area in the summer it is possible it may be slightly less so at the end of January.

We hope everyone will have an enjoyable holiday!

Coffee Morning on Wednesday January 30th

It has been noted that many of the regular attendees at our weekly Coffee Mornings make up most of the coach party; it is therefore apparent that attendance on that particular Wednesday (30th January) is going to be a bit sparse. May I request therefore that those who are present that morning give as much help as they are able to the few Committee Members that are there?

Your chairs, the book table and notice boards will need to be put away as usual so that we do not leave the hall untidy for those who follow us. We have an arrangement whereby the caretaker kindly removes the tables after we leave, so anything you can do to help will be greatly appreciated by him and us (the Committee).

We know we can rely on you all to help out where possible; Carole, Jean, Pearl and Ray will certainly welcome all the help you can give them. Thanks!

Group News

Luncheon Group

This group continued in its quest to sample the menus at various local 'eateries' by visiting the Brent House Restaurant on Thursday 29th November.

The lunch had been arranged by Pat Clipstone and all that attended enjoyed their meal, the Brent House Restaurant on the A38 is a very popular eating place during the summer months. Pat was told by the staff that had they visited a week earlier they would have needed 'wellies' because the venue was flooded; they may have been asked to help sweep away the water from the entrance.

Pat has confirmed that she will be organising another lunch in the New Year, hopefully your insides will have settled down again after eating all that Christmas food.

Photography Group

Members of this new group are keen to get out and take photographs of the selected subject so that the results may be discussed at the next meeting. They are learning how to obtain the best from their cameras by putting in practice what they have learnt from John Faller, he has previously attended instruction courses and is now imparting his knowledge to the group.

They are keen to produce some good images of local scenes and possibly of Club activities, their idea, I believe, is to produce a calendar for 2014.

Genealogy

At the end of the last sessions in June it was felt that most group members had discovered about all they could of their own family's history and, apart from tying up loose ends, would soon decide to call a halt. However, at the start of the winter term four new members joined the group and have brought a new awareness to the research and has revitalised the interest.

Theatre Group

Following the successful visits to Weston Playhouse it is obvious members wish to have more theatre visits; well your wishes are granted because Brenda and Dianne have booked seats for "Hello Dolly" on Saturday 6th April. At the Weston Playhouse--matinee performance—details are on the Notice Board.

Group News

Card Making Group

The Group completed production of the Christmas Cards that had been ordered by early December and a few spares were put on sale at a Coffee Morning.

In spite of their comments following last year's endeavours, the Group members did enjoy the hours spent in Southwell House 'crafting away' making cards. It was at the request of the group members that they repeat the exercise; and they have asked that if the sale of cards does produce a profit they would like a portion of it be given to the local gymnastic club "The Monarchs"

This year the Art Classes painted a selection of Christmas scenes, of which 10 were picked by the Card Makers, the Calligraphy Class provided the verses for inserts; thus three of our Groups worked together to produce the cards for 2012.

Correspondence

To Xmas Card Production Teams

What wonderful cards! I am amazed at the way our Art, Card Making and Calligraphy Groups have worked together to produce the gems. Thank you very much! They are winging their way across the world to distant friends and family.

Well done U3A of Highbridge.....Ann Smith

Flower Arranging Group

Welcome to the newcomers at the November class, I hope it proved to be of interest? The next class is on Tuesday 22nd January at Southwell House starting at 10.30 am.

We will be making a display of 5 flowers- only, with greenery if required and on a base of your providing it is relatively flat.

I (Jean) will purchase the flowers because it works out cheaper that way, we then share the costs. So, if it is your intention to attend, please let me (Jean—785240) know, on or before the previous Wednesday (16th January).

A Thank You!

From the Committee Members to those members who turned up on Boxing Day for remembering that we open as usual for a Coffee Morning as long as it does not fall on Christmas Day. There were not many of us but we had our usual beverage and a chat about 'this and that' and felt better for the exercise and breath of fresh air. Thanks.

Skittles Group

Ray Reddish has decided to stand down as one of the Co-Leaders of Skittles, after serving this Group for about 13 years; Betty Worthy has been his Co-Leader for much of that time. We thank Ray for all his work and, obviously effort, in promoting this popular pub sport and maintaining the interest over the years. Due to unforeseen circumstances the venues for skittles have changed from time to time, but Ray and Betty have soldiered on and kept the group together.

Ray has persuaded Phillip Buoy to take over his role and we thank Phil for stepping in to help Betty keep this popular group running, it is one of our oldest groups. Good luck Phil!

Thank you again Ray for your sterling effort over the years, but try to keep skittling, they will miss you on the alley!

Somerset Villages Group

On the 30th November the group visited Nether Stowey which nestles under the Quantock Hills west of Bridgwater; the group set off on its tour of this busy village in bright sunshine. A previously obtained booklet called "A Village Trail" that gave a brief history of the village proved to be very useful on the tour.

Leaving the car park, which was conveniently next to the library/toilets, the group set off up the hill towards the castle. The castle comprised a motte-and bailey built in the 11th century, it is in a reasonable state considering its age. On this clear bright day there were wonderful views across to Wales.

The 'Trail' then went down Castle Street and through the village; the oldest buildings are at the lower end of the street, these probably date from 11th century with later additions in the 17th/18th centuries. The largest house is Poole House, original home of Thomas Poole, born there in 1765. A self-educated man he read widely and books and his studies brought him into contact with many educated and famous people, including Samuel Taylor Coleridge, William Wordsworth and his sister (Poets), Charles Lamb (English Essayist), Robert Southey (Poet), William Hazlitt (Essayist), and Thomas de Quincy (Essayist). Samuel Grosse the inventor of a steam pumping engine was also born in Nether Stowey, and a frequent visitor Sir Humphrey Davy, the inventor of the safety lamp. (Continued on Page 16)

Strollers Programme

The strolls selected by the group for the next two months are: -

January 11th Edington and surrounding countryside.

January 25th Brent Knoll village.

February 8th Dunwear Ponds.

February 22nd East Brent village

Strollers leave the Bank Street Car Park in Highbridge at 10.00 am.

All strolls are dependent upon the weather on the day, the final decision is made when we assemble in the car park, all very democratic.

It was pouring with rain when five brave souls met on Friday 14th December to stroll at Dunwear Ponds, not a good idea! So we adjourned to the café lounge at the Princess Theatre, Burnham where we sat and drank coffee whilst admiring/commenting on the works of art displayed around the walls. This Club's Art Groups hope to display their pictures here early in the New Year and this visit proved to be a good opportunity to see how the art was displayed.

Whilst socialising we discussed the way our outings have been frustrated by the inclement weather this year, it has not been good. We try to select 4 possible strolls for the next two months and these are listed in the magazine, unfortunately our plans are frequently ruined by ---rain. Over the past 12 years we have compiled a list of 70 plus strolls, mostly within about 15 miles of Highbridge, but many of these can only be enjoyed when the weather is fine and dry.

At the beginning of November 13 members strolled at West Huntspill, with many walking quite a long way along the sea wall towards Highbridge and back again; taking coffee at the Laburnham Hotel afterwards.

The walk from Bradney Bridge to Peachey Bridge along the King Sedgemoor Drain was well supported, the 'going' was good but beyond Peachey Bridge the land was flooded. The group retired to the Hill Top Café for refreshments afterwards.

We now look forward to 2013 and better weather and hope our strolls can be taken in more amenable conditions.

An amendment to earlier printings of this magazine.

After I had produced some earlier editions of this issue the printer, for some reason yet to be determined, started to play up by not reproducing photographs up to the usual (still not perfect) standard. I therefore decided to delete it and put something else in its place, and help arrived unexpectedly from our Theatre Group; Brenda presented me with details of the next proposed theatre visit, which is: -

“Hello Dolly”

At Weston Playhouse on Saturday 6th April 2013

Total fully inclusive cost: £19.00

£10.00 deposit required by January 23rd

Full Payment no later than 20th February.

Personal Security

From time to time I get snippets of information that I feel will interest you because it could affect the security of your bank accounts. The most recent 'Scam' to come to light would concern those members who go away for a few days and happen to stay at a hotel that uses the Magnetic Keycard as a means of gaining access to rooms.

Beware!

Because this card may contain information that you do not want disclosed. My informant tells me it could hold: -

- (1) Room number (obviously)
- (2) Your name
- (3) Home address
- (4) Checking-in and checking-out dates
- (5) Means of payment #

At the end of your stay you would naturally return the card to reception, this means that any employee has access to your details by simply scanning the card in the hotel scanner. Or, could take your card, plus a hand full of cards of other 'residents' and scan them at his leisure. To the best of knowledge hotels do not wipe the cards clean after use; your details are automatically 'over-written' when the next guest arrives.

If you paid by credit/debit card your card number and expiry date may have been recorded; these details are then readily available to anyone who wishes to help themselves to your bank account. # Of course if you pay by cheque/cash then these details are not of any use to the unlawful types.

Remedies

Do not return your card to reception; take it home and destroy it, cut through the electronic strip. If you have a magnet, pass it over the magnetic strip several times to erase the details. If you have the magnet with you at the hotel, try passing it over the card AFTER you have left the room, to see if it still works.

The hotel does not and will not charge you for the card (illegal). You will have had a holiday and will be happy that your financial details are safe, or as safe as you can make them.

This information was received from a reliable source, so read, mark, learn and inwardly digest.

Apparently the stream that runs down Castle Street burst its banks following the recent continuous rain and caused the locals some concern. A local resident told us that if the staff at the Post Office had not warned them early one recent morning their homes would have suffered considerable flood damage. The sandbags that were stacked around a number of properties had evidently been used to stem the floodwater.

At the junction of Castle, Lime and St Mary's Streets there was once a market cross with a bell tower and the village stocks and lock-up. The original bell tower was demolished due to its poor state and was replaced in 1862 by the present Clock Tower; many local events use this area, the village centre, as their starting place.

Stowey Court and St Mary's Church that form the lower part of Stowey are isolated from the rest of the village by the A39 by-pass, built in 1968. It was becoming apparent that the group would need to make another visit to Nether Stowey if it was to complete its tour of the village; so lunch was taken at the 'Cricketers' and a another visit is to be arranged.

Village Group dates for 2013 are: - March 29th, May 31st, August 30th and November 29th.
